The final of the New South Wales amateur championship was played yesterday at Botany. The day was perfect for golf, being fairly calm. In the afternoon a good crowd of spectators followed the finalists, Messrs. D. G. Soutar and R. Whytt. The result of the two rounds was a pronounced victory for Mr. Soutar, 12 up and 11 to play. In the morning the champion was 7 up, though he did not then show the form that he exhibited in the afternoon, when at the seventh hole he was 12 up and had the match won. Continuing in excellent form he got to the seventeenth hole in 70, but getting bunkered for the last he took seven, and thus spoiled what would otherwise have been a brilliant round. His figures were:-Out, 5, 5, 4, 2, 4, 3, 4, 5, 5-87; home, 4, 3, 5, 5, 4, 4, 4, 4, 7-40; total, 77. The performance comprised a remarkably fine exhibition of every department of the game. Mr. Whytt, the runner-up for the championship, made a better fight against a forlorn hope in the afternoon than in the morning, but after lunch he struck the champion at the top of his game, and all that Mr. Whytt could then do was to halve the second and the seventh holes.

The associate members of the above club played a bogey match on Tuesday for a trophy presented by Mrs. P. Allan. The best cards were:-

Mrs. Buckland, hcp. 28	7 down

25th July GOLF. 04

The various competitions were interfered with by occasional showers and a strong cold wind on Saturday. The principal engagement was that between the metropolitan and the suburban clubs at Concord, the result of which was a victory after an exciting finish by three for the metropolitan team. The champion, Mr. D. G. Soutar, had for his opponent Mr. H. Macneil, and a close game was just won by the champion by one up. This interesting contest was the forerunner of many such games, the whole result being in doubt until the last couple of pairs came in. In only two instances was the limit of victory reached, viz., by Messrs. E. P. Simpson and E. J. B. Macarthur, who were 6 up respectively on Messrs. C. L. Mackenzie and N. F. Christoe. Although defeated in holes, in individual matches the suburbanites were victorious, winning eight to five, the remaining three being squared. At Strathfield the local and the Concord clubs played a sweepstake stroke, and the best returns were those by Messrs. J. O. Anderson and S. A. Thompson, who tied with 78 net. A game in the Strathfield Club's championship was played, Mr. W. Wickham defeating Rev. C. A. White four up. At Parramatta Mr. L. J. Berckelman secured a leg-in for Mr. Bodenham's trophy. At Marrickville a bogey match was won by Mr. E. W. Boake. The Dobroyde stroke was headed by Mr. G. D. Hamilton, with 78 net. Mr. P. W. Pope was first in the Killara bogey match.

Gritton had the best return 2 up, and in the B Mr. R. Laidley headed the list. The Killara Club having the bye in the club competition played a match against bogey, the winner being Mr. A. O. Gillies, handicapped at 5, 2 up. In the club competition Hunter's Hill easily defeated Parramatta, Concord had no difficulty with Strathfield, nor had Marrickville with Dobroyde. Saturday 5th Nov 1904 presented with medals.

GOLF.

The Royal Sydney G.C.'s medal matches on Saturday were won by Mr. A. G. Wesche in the A grade, and Mr. H. Smith in the B. The Suburban Club competition concluded on Saturday. The result was a win for the Hunter's Hill Club, which holds the premier ship for this season with an unbeaten record. This is the second year in which the premiers have held the title, having been successful in 1901, and it is likewise the second occasion that the A division has gone through the season without defeat. On Saturday Mr. C. L. Mackenzie reduced the amateur record for the Killara links from 80 to 75, though in a non-competition round on Wednesday he did 77. The premiership has now been won by Hunter's Hill (1901), Marrickville (1902), Concord (1903), and Hunter's Hill (1904). The play on Saturday between the Hunter's Hill and Killara was remarkably even in results, the A team winning by 14 to 9, and the B by 15 to 9. The meeting of these clubs was interesting for the reason that neither had lost a match during the season. Strathfield scored 46 to Dobroyde's 17, and Marrickville secured a win from Parramatta by 31 to 26, the home team in each case announcing the easiest of victories. The details of Saturday's play are as follow:-

AUSTRALIAN G. C.

The Australian G. C. opened their new links club-house at Kensington on Saturday afternoon, when 200 ladies and gentlemen competed. Fifty ladies played over their own nine-hole course, which proved to be more difficult than was anticipated, as the result shows. Over one hundred and fifty men played over the long course.

In view of the importance of the event, some information regarding the history of the club should prove interesting. The Australian G.C. was the first golf club to be formed in New South Wales. In the early eighties, when the club was formed, the membership list included such well-known names as the Hon. H. C. Dangar, the Hon. W. R. Campbell, J. R. Street, and about 30 others. The Municipal Council of Sydney granted the club permission to play on a portion of Moore Park. It is interesting to note that in 1884 Mr. C. H. Cadogan presented a cup (the Cadogan Cup), to be played for there annually, unless won twice in succession, when it was to become the property of the winner. This cup is still being competed for, the present holder being Dr. Gordon Craig. The first five winners were Messrs. Hamilton Osborne, A. Gray, A. C. Blackburn, C. C. Griffiths, and Dr. E. Fairfax Ross. In 1888 the club lost its links, and was unable to find fresh ground until 1896, when a few of the original members and others decided to utilise the accumulated funds of the old club, and formed new links in Queen's Park, Waverley. By this time the Sydney Golf Club (now the R.S.G.C.) had started on links at Bondi, and a friendly but keen rivalry existed between the two clubs, with the result that today Sydney golfers are provided with two first-class golf links, each with an up-to-date club-house. The rapid increase in the membership of the A.G.C. necessitated a removal, and the now famous Botany links were secured for a term of seven years, during which time the first professional match, two Australian championship meetings, including the first open championship of Australasia, were decided on these links. Before the expiration of this lease the club decided to form fresh links at Kensington, to secure which a company was formed amongst the members of the club. The necessary land was purchased, and the members of the club now look forward to an era of uninterrupted tenure of ideal links within 25 minutes of Sydney. The club is to be congratulated upon the fact that for the first time in the history of golf in Australia two competitions, with so many players, could be successfully carried out on the same day and at the same time. Over 300 visitors were present at the club-house during the afternoon, and general admiration was expressed for the club-house and links by the visitors and players.

The results of the competitions were:-

THE AUSTRALIAN CHAMPIONSHIP FIXTURES.

This year's Australian championship competitions will be held at Sandringham (Vic.), and the Royal Melbourne Golf Club has drawn up the programme as follows:-

October 23: Handicap stroke, 18 holes, and handicap v. bogey, 18 holes.

October 24: Inter-State match, teams of six amateurs, 36 holes.

October 25: Doubles championship of Australia (amateur), 18 holes; strokes (entries in pairs).

October 26 and 27: Four rounds stroke, to decide (1) open championship of Australia, (2) amateur championship of Australia, (3) professional competition for £8, £5, £2.

October 28: Men's handicap, 36 holes, v. bogey.

October 30: Mixed foursomes, 36 holes, stroke (entries singly or in pairs).

October 31: Ladies' handicap, 18 holes, stroke (scores to count as first round of championship).

November 1 and 2: Ladies' championship of Australia, three rounds, stroke (handicap), round of October 31 to count as one of them.

November 8: Ladies' double handicap (entries separately or in pairs), 18 holes, stroke.

Demand by Mr. Phillips

"a majority of the committee being of opinion that the conditions stated a case of irregularity on the part of the authority of the Honorary secretary... could not be departed from. Windeyer's handicap was shown on an engraved sheet of paper, which was posted on the club house door to notify the draw, as 'scratch'. This was done without the authority of the Handicap Committee who had not been consulted by the secretary who had only obtained the consent of the committee about making the alteration - the proposed reduction being clearly in conflict with the principles always previously adhered to. Demand on doing 78 in October was put on 1 (Trudge)
